

NATURAL HISTORY CLOSED FOR RENOVATION

Due to rebuilding and renovation of the dignified building at Museclass 3, the Natural History Collections will be closed from 1 November 2013. The exhibitions in the Cultural History Collections, Haakon Sheteligsglass 10, will still be open. In connection with the building operations, work will also be carried out in parts of the Museum Garden, which from now on will be open to the public from 06.00 to 20.00.

Welcome to Haakon Sheteligsglass 10

The entire University Museum will thus not be closed. The Cultural History Collections will in the years ahead be the main venue for the Museum's public outreach services. This applies both to the permanent and current cultural history collections, but also new, changing exhibitions with themes from both natural and cultural history will be offered. The Museum will also continue to offer a number of events, both new and old, to the public – which from now on will take place in Haakon Sheteligsglass 10 - for quite a while.
